Students and staff took part in a refresher course of the successful ‘Protective Behaviours’ program, run by social worker Fiona Bowden. One of the key goals of the program is to reduce the risk of child abuse, but there are many other benefits, including enhancing children’s communication skills, improving their understanding of their rights and how to respect the rights of others, how to express themselves, how to seek help if they need it, and how to cope with difficult situations they may face. It is also linked to self esteem, bullying, risk taking behaviour, youth suicide, drug use and more. Fiona presents in a fun and engaging way while still getting across a very serious message.

Learning all about our personal space circles.

A little song and dance about private and public behaviour.

“We all have the right to feel safe all of the time”